Altro Transflor aboard Dublin Bus fleet replacement programme

Altro Transflor has been installed in 100 new double deckers, as part of a fleet replacement programme by Dublin Bus. The flooring has been supplied in pre-cut kit form to bus builder Alexander Dennis Limited, for installation during the manufacturing process. Altro Transflor in the shade Midnight, has been used to complement Dublin Bus' yellow, navy and sky blue livery.

Dublin Bus is the city's major public transport provider, operating 1,080 buses on over 140 routes. The 100 new buses are being introduced as part of Dublin Bus' ongoing fleet replacement and expansion programme under Ireland's six-year National Development Plan for public services and amenities.

The new double deckers are all low floor, easy access buses, with ramp facilities for wheelchair passengers. They are also wider than existing vehicles and have improved headroom in the upper and lower saloons to provide a spacious, comfortable interior for passengers.

A spokesperson for Dublin Bus said:

“We have been using Altro Transflor in our vehicles for many years. The flooring has good slip resistance properties and it is also very hardwearing, making it ideal for our buses as they see high levels of foot traffic every day.”
